Brad's Message

They are forecasting a major ice storm for the coming days. Please be cautious in venturing out if things get slick and icy. As long as the church has power, we plan to broadcast the early service on KDKD at 8:15 am as usual. If the church loses power, of course, we will cancel church and be unable to record or transmit a signal to KDKD. Please stay safe and keep in contact with your family and neighbors.

Prayer is a wonderful way to draw nearer to God and nearer to others. I've experienced both as I've been praying for the families in our church since New Year's.

My commitment to pray for all of you has deepened my faithfulness in prayer. In turn, that faithfulness has drawn me closer to God. It has strengthened my sense of God's presence in my life and reminded me of the importance of turning to God for my needs. Also, many of you have included prayers of thankfulness for all the blessings in your life. Every time I read that I am reminded of all the blessings my family enjoys and of the goodness of God.

My commitment to pray for all of you has also drawn me closer to you. I have been deeply touched by the prayer lists I've received. They remind me of all the things – simple and major – that you carry on your hearts. Thank you for taking the time to help me focus my prayers. Praying for you has also prompted me to reflect on you and your family and to give thanks for the unique things you add to our church and God's world.

I look forward to praying for all you!
