some say a day
is measured by minutes some shave it closer
and say by seconds
others have hours
as their daily divisors.
i say a day
is a lifetime
long enough for love
and way to short
for worry.

I would like to thank the members of this church for the very generous love offering, the kind words, the hugs, and the well-wishes as I retire as office manager.

Over the years you have included me as a part of this church family, and I will cherish the friendship and the memories made here. You are an awesome group of people - and I appreciate you!

Dear Faithful Supporter,

Thank you for your recent donation to support Red Bird Mission. We are grateful that you are partnering with us. We have had several volunteer teams assisting with routine maintenance and improvements at the Red Bird Mission School this summer. We expect to see growth this year as new student applications already represent 8% of last year's student population. We ask that you continue your prayers and support for our ministries as we share the love of Jesus Christ in these mountains.

Grace and Peace-
O. Taylor Collins
Executive Director
